FRANKFORT, KY., JULY 25, 1885.

Number 45.

The evening services at most of the churches in the city will be omitted to-morrow evening on account of the hot weather.

Mr. H. R. Williams has commenced tearing away his frame livery stable in South Frankfort and will replace it with a substantial brick one.

The pump and engine houses of the Water Company have been completed and the boiler, engine and pumps have arrived and are now being put up.

Rev. J. W. Pratt, D.D., of Louisville, will occupy the pulpit at the Southern Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning and evening, the pastor, Rev. E. C. Caldwell, being absent at Carrollton.

Wednesday afternoon Officer Henry Brown and Acting Officer Andrew Griffin were called upon to go on the Arsenal Hill and arrest Sam McCurdy, a desperate character, who was drunk and abusing his family. When they reached the house and were inquiring of sister of McCurdy what the trouble was, Officer Brown saw him coming around the corner of the house with a musket in his hand and called to him to be careful with his gun, to which McCurdy re lied "G—d d—in you, I'm going to kill you," and leveled the gun when Griffin fired on him, the bullet passing his arm, which drew his attention, when Brown fired, missing his aim, and the gun was again brought down on him, and both men fired at once, the ball from Brown's pistol striking McCurdy just below the naval inflicting a wound which is thought will prove fatal, while the charge from the musket passed close to Brown's side but missed his body. The men then clinched, when Brown called on Griffin for assistance and that officer placed his pistol in McCurdy's face and he immediately exclaimed "Don't shoot me any more, I've been shot twice already," and surrendered. A physician was sent for and the wounded man examined, when it was discovered that the ball had entered at the pit of the stomach and passed out on the right side just above the hip. He is still alive and may yet recover as it is thought the ball did not cut any of the intestines.

McCurdy is a tough citizen, having served two terms in the Penitentiary both times for attempt to murder in a treacherous manner. While his wound was being dressed he told Officer Brown that he supposed that he was a dying man, but he had a son growing up who yet kill him.

Brown surrendered himself to Squire McDonald, who placed him in the charge of City Marshal Stephens until the result of the wound can be ascertained. It was clearly a case of self defense.

Information Wanted.

About eighteen months ago an appropriation of $2,500 was made by the Franklin County Court to build a turnpike from a point known as Goin's Ice House and to run to the residence now occupied by ex-sheriff W. L. McCall, about three miles from the train for Louisville. A few days since I noticed that about one-quarter of a mile of the road in the center was left unfinished. Both ends of the road were built. The worst part left unfinished. Why was this? I have been informed that the county court at the time, and proposed to the County court to build the road for the amount appropriated. Has the County Judge, the County Surveyor, or any other county officer received this road with this open gap? If so, why? Who is responsible for this work? If he has, I am satisfied, knowing him as I do, that he has made no report going to show the completion of this turnpike. It may not be his duty, but he should be the duty of some one. Would it not be well to have this inspection made before the money is paid by the sheriff or the treasurer? I think it would be proper if the County Judge would issue a rule against the proper person responsible forthwith, to show why this turnpike was not completed according to agreement. There is a great deal of travel over this road, and it should be completed during the good weather. Will the Presiding Judge of the County Court explain?

CITY TAX-PAYER.

Sunday afternoon our citizens were startled by the announcement that Mr. Thos. S. Theobald, a young son of Mr. E. S. Theobald, Teller of the Farmers' Bank, had taken his own life by placing a pistol to his head and sending a bullet through his brain. Sunday morning he went to his room with a book in his hand and as he did not come to the dinner table his father went to look for him and found him lying upon the floor of his room with his head and shoulders resting against the bed, and the pistol which had done the fatal work, lying beside him on the bed. The body was cold when found and he had evidently been dead an hour or two. Between twelve and one o'clock he was seen by several gentlemen who were sitting in the store of Messrs. Day & Hart, to climb the fence back again, which was the last time he was seen alive. He was an exceedingly quiet and modest young man, who had many friends, but about a year ago had a severe attack of typhoid fever from which he had never fully recovered, and since that time has seemed to care but little for the society of any one taking long walks alone, and his mind had evidently become affected.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon from the Methodist Church, and was attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. In this sudden and heavy affliction the family have the warmest sympathy of the entire community.

Typhoid Fever.

I am sixty-seven years old, and have lived in this (Hall) county all my life up to twenty-eight years ago I was regarded as the strongest man in the neighborhood—the most robust in the neighborhood. In November, 1856, I had a long and serious spell of typhoid fever, which I suffered from and recovered. The doctors said that my right leg was swollen an enormous size, being twice as large as its natural condition, and inflamed and angry in appearance. From my knee down small sores came, at first only a single large ulcer, which discharged a yellowish humor. My whole system became infected. The doctors would patch me up for a while, but the ulcer would never heal. The mercury and potash with which they dosed me brought on rheumatism and dyspepsia. I was an object of pity among my friends. Some thought that the only hope to save life was amputation. I continued to grow worse, and for three years I have not worn a shoe. Hope had almost left me. Swift's Specific was suggested, and I commenced its use at once. From the very first I began to feel better. I have never had another attack since, and the shadows which had darkened my life for twenty-eight years have all been dissipated. The effect of the medicine has been wonderful indeed. To day I am able to attend all my farming interests, and walk from one to five miles daily without fatigued that the disease is entirely broken up, and henceforth I am to be free from those terrible apprehensions and suffering which formerly made my life miserable. Swift's Specific has done more for me in one year than all the drug store medicine prescribed by physicians during the same period. I am now in the best of health, and most cheerfully bear this testimony of its merits.

The Spring Hill Gun Club went to Lexington yesterday morning to shoot a match at Peoria blackbirds and clay pigeons with the Blue Grass Club of that city.

Logan Liddell, a negro boy about sixteen years of age, broke into the store-room of Mr. Lee A. Owen, at Jet Station, Sunday morning, and stole some tobacco, all the change in the cash drawer, and a few small articles. He was seen to enter the store by some of the neighbors and was captured in a few minutes after leaving it, brought to this city and lodged in jail. He had an examination Tuesday afternoon before Esquires McDonald and Bohannon and was held over to Circuit Court. Liddell is the same party who slipped into the drug stores of Messrs. Hughes & Chiles and Joseph LeCompte and stole some fancy articles last winter.

A Fasting Girl.

In Cincinnati a sixteen-year-old girl recently died after a fast of fifty-two days. She had been attacked by something like paralysis which rendered it impossible for her to take nourishment. The human system cannot thrive without good food and good ability to digest it. Weak and impeded digestion is rectified by Brown's Iron Bitters—better than any other tonic in the world. Mr. J. E. Freeberg, Pomeroy, Iowa: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and poor appetite; completely cured me." It will cure you.

GEORGE A. LEWIS,
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, JULY 25, 1885.

The city of Frankfort has Sunday law among its ordinances which is enforced spasmodically—everybody who wishes to is allowed to keep his business open every day in the week for several months and then the police are suddenly ordered to close up everything on Sunday. The officers endeavor to obey orders, report those who fail to close their places of business, and take out warrants against them and in nine cases out of ten when the cases come to trial the warrants are dismissed by the judge or magistrate, or the jury is hung by one or two parties who think it a necessity for business to be kept open for them to get their usual allowance of liquor.

After giving free rein to the violations of this ordinance, many of whom have given bond that they would not sell on Sunday, for the past six months orders were issued several weeks ago to the Chief of Police to enforce the Sunday law. He started out by closing the saloons first, which seemed to work all right the first Sunday, and the next everybody was ordered to close, but because the livery stables milk and ice wagons were not stopped also there was a kick. One or two defied the law and warrants were issued against them, the cases tried and as usual the juries hung. Last Sunday two of the barbers kept their shops open and warrants were issued against them. Mr. Alex. Szymanski's case was tried Monday, he plead his own cause and the jury hung. On Tuesday Mr. W. G. Mandeville was to be tried before Squire McDonald, and City Marshal Stephens summoned his jurors whom he believed would try the case according to law and evidence, and when the bell rang the following gentlemen took seats in the jury box: E. Whitesides, John E. Miles, R. K. McClure, S. C. Bull, W. S. Dehemy, J. T. Deakin, R. Rogers, John M. Coleman, W. T. Readig, John Dean and Geo. A. Lewis. Mr. Ira Julian, the attorney for Mr. Mandeville, came into the court room, looked at the jury, said it looked like a regular Sunday school, wrote out the following affidavit, made his client sign and swear to it:

Geo. A. McDonald's Court,
Frankfort, Ky.

Commonwealth } Affidavit.

W. G. Mandeville.

A friend of Mr. Mandeville says that Mr. Stephens, Marshal of the city of Frankfort, who summoned the jury in this case, was actuated by and partially favor in and for Commonwealth against defendant and summoned the jury herein with the view and for the purpose of having the jury decide against the defendant in this case and the jurisdiction he believed would decide against defendant. He further believes that said Stephens is so prejudiced in favor of Commonwealth that he will not do justice to defendant in selecting a jury to try this cause.

W. G. MANDEVILLE.

Sworn to before me this July 21, 1885.
PAT. McDONALD.

Squire McDonald, much to the surprise of every one, overruled the objection of the City Attorney, granted the motion to discharge the jury, and appointed Constable Cox to summon another, which gave Mr. Julian an opportunity to select or "gilt" one who would find for his client or hung, and as usual the latter was the result.

The unusual proceeding of allowing a man to come into court and object to a jury simply because he believed they would, if the evidence showed that he had violated the law, bring in a verdict against him, so aroused some of the good people of the town that a movement was immediately set on foot for the organization of a Law and Order Club, which seems to be badly needed in this city.

Messrs. Szymanski and Mandeville have since confessed judgment and agreed to keep their shops closed here after on Sunday.

Capt. J. C. Post, U. S. Engineer in charge of the Kentucky River Improvement visited this city for the purpose of inspecting the work in progress at Locks No. 4 and 5, and together with Col. D. L. Sublett, Gen. D. W. Lindsey, Judge Geo. C. Drane, Hon. Geo. V. Triplett, Rev. R. E. Caldwell, and Frank Chinn, Esq., of this city, and Major R. S. Wingate, of New York, we had the pleasure of accompanying him. The trip was made on the U. S. Snag Boat, Kwawind, commanded by Capt. Jas. F. Browninski, and was an enjoyable one. A heavy shower of rain, which commenced falling when we were about the mouth of Glendale Creek and continued until we reached No. 5, so cooled the atmosphere that a walk about the works could be taken in comparative comfort. We found the work being pushed ahead as rapidly as possible, one section of the foundation of the dam has been placed in position, another was being framed, and the dredge boat was at work clearing away for the balance of the foundation; the gates are being framed rapidly and will soon be ready to put together, and the coping and walls of the lock are being repaired. The river having cut into the bank around the old dam on the Woodford side in such a way as to leave the abutment standing in the middle of the stream, the new dam is being built about a hundred feet below, an abutment having been built for it into the solid rock where the water cannot affect it. The lock pit and approach from above have been cleared of the mud which had accumulated there in the last nine years and the cribbing rebuilt and refilled with stone, but a large quantity of earth has yet to be cleared out of the over approach.

Stone for filling in the dam has been quarried from the bank a short distance below, a large lot of timber already on the ground, more is being received daily, and the prospect for the completion of the work this season is very flattering.

Mr. Logan McKee, of this city, is employed there in the capacity of clerk to Capt. Venable, the resident engineer, and seems to be enjoying the life finely.

Leaving No. 5, we proceeded down the river to No. 4, stopping to pull and cut up a couple of snags on the way, and a good assortment of Men and Boys' Straw Hats. I also sell a

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, JULY 25, 1885.

A musical society called the Maennerchor has been organized by a number of our German citizens.

Rev. G. C. Kelly, of this city, has been attending the High Bridge Camp meeting the past week, and preached there on Monday afternoon.

All the barbers of the city have agreed to close their shops to-morrow, and all those who want clean faces will have to shave to-night or shave themselves in the morning.

While some hands were engaged in lifting a heavy timber at the saw-mill of Judge W. L. Pence Wednesday morning, it slipped from their grasp and fell upon the left ankle of Mr. Wm. French, Jr., one of their number, breaking one of the bones.

While bathing in the river with some friends Wednesday afternoon Mr. Sam. Salyers jumped into water beyond his depth and came near being drowned, being unable to swim. As he was going under the third time Mr. J. Watt Stephens caught him and pulled him into a boat.

Rev. James Fall, of this city, will deliver a series of sermons at Brassy Springs Church, Woodford county, commencing to-night. His subject for this evening's discourse will be "The House," to-morrow morning "The Temple," to-morrow evening "The Kingdom." All are invited to attend.

Prof. J. O. Bauer is organizing a Philharmonic Society in this city. About seventy of the best musicians among the ladies and gentlemen of the city have already joined, and it promises to be a decided success. The gentlemen members of the society are requested to meet at Weltzel's Hall on Tuesday evening next for the purpose of fixing a regular night of meeting, securing a place for the meetings, and making other necessary arrangements.

Some old fashioned people in this city had an idea that it was the duty of a sheriff or marshal to summon jurors that they believe will try causes according to the law and evidence, but according to the new doctrine, if either of these officers accidentally summons a jury that does not give every evidence in their countenances that they will find for the accused or hang no matter how strong the evidence against him, the officer and jury must go. Men who believe in enforcing law are not wanted; they are a bad lot.

Mr. Hal. Gaines has bought out the South Side meat store of Mr. Z. Taylor Collins and will hereafter run that establishment, keeping the freshest and tenderest meats always on hand. He has secured the services of Mr. James White, an experienced cattle trader, to do the buying of stock, and Mr. Thos. J. Holder, who is well known to our citizens as a first-class butcher, to attend to the store, and the old customers of the house can be sure of getting good, toothsome beef at all times.

A German Carp weighing nine pounds was caught out of the pond at Fleetwood Farm on Monday.

Dr. Hugh T. Tobin, of this city, who has been residing in Texas for several years, has been appointed physician and surgeon to the Comanche and Kiowa agency in the Indian Territory.

Miss Ollie Compton, of this county, entertained a large number of her friends on Friday evening of last week, in honor of her friend, Miss Brogdon. It was quite an enjoyable affair. A large number from this city were present.

The enterprising firm of Crutcher & Starks have secured Waxey's Lexington band of colored musicians to give concerts every Saturday afternoon and evening in front of the great White Hall clothing house, and will be glad to have all their friends to come up and enjoy the music.

The weather this week has been the warmest we have experienced in the last four years. The average temperature has been about 95°, but on Tuesday the mercury was the highest registered in the neighborhood of a hundred all day, and 96° at 10 o'clock that night.

Mr. N. L. Moore, of this county, killed on Monday night one of the largest chicken snakes ever seen in the Stony Creek neighborhood. It was six feet long and as large around as a man's arm. It had attacked a brood of his chickens, which were as large as partridges, had swallowed two of them and was coiled around another when killed.

The trial of the case of the Common-wealth vs. O. H. Brown, charged with the murder of Freeman, a Versailles policeman, which has been in progress the past week at Versailles, Judge P. U. Major sitting as special Judge, came to a close Wednesday by the jury, who were summoned from this county, returning a verdict of guilty and fixing the penalty at fourteen years in the Penitentiary.

Antioch.

Hot, hotter, hottest.

Thermometer at the toll-gate up in the hundreds.

Mrs. T. D. Hales spent last Sunday with her mother in Frankfort.

Mr. Ethel Bryant, now of Shively county, was out the first of the week visiting relatives and friends.

Miss Sallie Hopper, who has been quite sick with pneumonia, is now pleased to say is now convalescent.

Farmers would do well to examine their oats in the stack; they might spoil on them.

The apple crop will not be as large as was expected; we hear a great many complaining.

Benson Creek came down muddy Sunday. When was the rain?

An "Old Rusty Cuse" does not re-strict us to go; we will say, name your day and conditions, and if accepted we will name the boy that will tackle him.

The school at Antioch will begin the 1st Monday in August, Mr. Aleck Scott teacher.

Miss Mary Gayhart gave the young folks a singing last Sunday night. They had a nice time and enjoyed themselves.

Last Saturday the Teachers' Association met in the city school building; the proceedings were very interesting. The weather was hot, though none seemed to grow weary; there are some, we learn, that say they would like to attend these meetings, but they are afraid they will have to say something. Now while every one is given the opportunity, no one is forced to speak. The young men and girls intended to unite the teachers together for their mutual benefit and instruction. The discussions are voluntary. Those last Saturday were more interesting and livelier than usual.

Come, fellow teachers, to the next meeting and see for yourself, examine the work done by the association, you wish to hear about? Have you anything, any trouble, you need advice, or assistance in them, bring it before your fellow teachers where you will find willing hearts and minds ready to assist you. We invite all to come whether a public or private teacher, or both, of the cause. Our meetings are growing in numbers and in interest, at each meeting new names are enrolled. You will soon be the exception, you that stay away.

Bridgeport.

Harvesting over.

We vote to kill all the dogs.

Mr. Gip Sanders has the bosc roasting ear patch.

Blackberries more scarce than at first supposed.

Since our last report we have had several good rains.

Mr. Thos. Freeman still remains in a precarious condition.

The thermometer has registered 100+ several days this week.

Born.—July 29th, 1885, to Mr. Jas. M. Wirtz and wife, a daughter.

Misses Jennie and Fannie Rump are visiting friends in this neighborhood.

Little Nellie Kirk still remains quite ill, though better than when we last wrote.

Dr. J. O. Robinson left last Monday for Bald Knob where he will practice his profession. Success.

Rev. Kavanaugh filled the appointment of Rev. R. E. Caldwell at Frankfort Church last Monday night.

Mr. Charles Noxon, collector for J. M. Wakefield, lumber dealer, was in our village last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Clem Parent, 22 years old, stayed Alton, 6 miles from this place, for the first time in her life. Has week.

Miss Little Russell left Tuesday for Eminence, where she will remain some time visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wooldridge.

Several more dogs have been killed this week in this place. Two already mad and the other having been bitten by rables were killed to prevent the danger threatened by these.

A young lady in this vicinity being very much fatigued, attempted to pull the cows one evening recently set down, went through the process of milking, when, on being aroused found the cow several yards distant.

Teachers Association in the City School Building, Frankfort, last Saturday was one reflecting credit on those present. An increased degree of interest was manifested. All performing the duties assigned in a degree highly commendable.

"Judge," said a young lawyer to a very successful senior, "tell me the secret of your uniform success at the bar."

"Judge," said a young lawyer to a very successful senior, "tell me the secret of your uniform success at the bar."

"Agreed, sir," said the junior.

"Evidence, indisputable evidence,"

At the end of the month the judge remained the young man of his promise.

"I recall no such promise."

"Ah, but you made it."

"Your evidence, please?"
